DUTIES OF COLORED RACE EXPRESSED IN RESOLUTIONS

Given as Better Educational Advantages and Police Protection.

At the closing session of the Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Con-vention at the City Auditorium last night a series of resolutions setting forth the duties of the colored race in the face of the problems now confronting the country were presented by a committee of which Rev. C. C. Somerville was chairman.

In speaking of the migration of negroes from the South to the North, West and East, the committee declared the cause not to be primarily social, but to lie in the fact that the negroes so migrating are seeking better op-portunities financially and education-ally, together with better police pro-tection and the guarantee of just legal procedure. The right of every man to desire to better himself was proclaimed, and the solution of the problem was said by the committee to lie n intelligent co-operation between the leaders of the white and colored races.

As was to be expected, the country wide outbreak of mob violence was discussed and deprecated, the onus being put upon the white people who have the machinery of the law in their hands. The committee called upon the sworn officers of the law to put down such violence with an iron hand, and bespoke the assistance of the press and pulpit. But the duty of the leaders of the colored race was the leaders of the colored race was also recognized, and they are urged to teach their fellows that crime is usually hatched in idleness, and that the negro who is employed and works faithfully and behaves himself need have little fear of mob violence.

The resolutions further called the matter of the court above did not touch the criminal feature of the care. The resolutions further called the guestion of Carruthers supporting his
